

'Kahiki' Is Dance Theme For October 24 Weekend

Mighty Knights' March, Kastle Kapers, crowning a queen, a parade and a banquet and dance centered around the "Kahiki" theme will highlight the 1964 Wartburg College Homecoming.

Festivities will begin Thursday evening with the Mighty Knights' March.

"This year the march will proceed from the campus to the fairgrounds on the south side of Waverly," said Ken Barr, march chairman.

The 10 queen finalists will be introduced at the march. These girls will be selected in the Homecoming Mystery Convocation on Thursday morning.

A GREASED pole contest, open to both girls and guys, will also be featured. There will be big prizes for the winners. Details will be available at a later date.

"Midnight Sun," Kastle Kapers production on Friday night, will include the crowning of the Homecoming queen and a program of original arrangements of jazz scores composed by junior Bob Hewitt.

Saturday at 10 a.m., the queen and her court will appear in the Homecoming parade, which will move up Bremer Avenue from the courthouse to the campus.

"SOME OF THE ideas for floats will be most interesting," according to Tony Ingle, co-chairman of the parade.

North Hall, last year's float winner, will build the theme float centering around "Unity Amid Diversity."

After the morning parade attention will center on a can-stacking contest. Larry Weight, junior, chairman of the special contests committee, said that his "biggest problem of the moment is finding approximately one thousand cans that can be used!"

BANQUET AND dance themes this year are based on a sea cruise motif. Sailing time is 5:30 p.m. with a "Kahiki" social hour in the Castle Room of the Student Union. A buffet dinner in the Wartburg Dining Hall will follow at 6:30 p.m.

"Captain" Dr. John W. Bachman will address the passengers and crew during the dinner hour.

"Come with me . . . to the sea" will set the mood for dancing from 9 p.m. until midnight in the decorated gymnasium.

DEDICATION OF the addition to the Student Memorial Union Building is set for Sunday afternoon.

Weekend activities will conclude with the first Artist Series program of the year. The Warsaw Philharmonic Orchestra, from Warsaw, Poland, will appear at 8 p.m. Sunday in Knights' Gym.

Junior Carol Lee and sophomore Gory Lamb, co-choirmen of the Queen's Committee, admire the crown which will be worn by the 1964 Homecoming Queen.

Homecoming Tickets To Be Sold This Week

Tickets for the 1964 Wartburg Homecoming will go on sale this week on campus and in several Waverly business establishments.

High Schoolers On Campus Today

Three to four hundred high school students, pastors and counselors from eight states are visiting the campus today in connection with Fall Visitation Day.

Guests were taken on guided tours of the campus by college students. At 9:30 they were greeted by Dr. John W. Bachman, college president, and Dave Hutson, student body president, in an orientation convocation. Admission staff members were also introduced.

Prospective students had a chance to meet faculty members and ask questions of major advisers in three morning counseling sessions.

After lunch in the cafeteria, visitors have been invited to the football game this afternoon and are welcome at the hootenanny this evening in the Student Union, according to Jack Schemmel, admissions counselor.

chase Kastle Kapers tickets for 50 cents, dance tickets for $2.25 and banquet tickets for $1.75.

A special "cruise package," which includes two banquet tickets and a dance ticket, will be available to students for a savings of as much as a dollar. Total price of the "cruise" will be determined by the type of meal ticket the student has, according to Bob Bone, general Homecoming chairman.

THOSE STUDENTS who have a seven-day meal ticket will be able to purchase a banquet ticket for $1.25, and a dance ticket for $2. Students with five-day tickets can purchase a banquet ticket for $1.50, and a dance ticket for $2.

The "Kahiki" banquet will be held in the Wartburg dining hall on Saturday evening. A social hour in the Castle Room will precede the banquet.

THOSE STUDENTS who do not wish to attend the banquet and who have a seven-day ticket will be given a sack lunch from the Den, according to junior Dave Wegenast, general financial chairman.

Wegenast also emphasized that one need not have a date to attend the banquet and social hour. The banquet will be served buffet style, thus enabling people to come and go as they wish.

The Wartburg Trumpet VOICE OF THE KNIGHTS

Student Honors Program Begins With Wed. Dinner

A dinner for honors program students will be held at 5 p.m. Wednesday at Carver's Restaurant.

According to Dr. John O. Chellevold, chairman of the Honors Program Committee, this will be the first meeting for honors students, and the dinner is intended to serve as a kickoff for the entire program.

Established this fall for the first time at Wartburg, the honors program is made up entirely of freshmen. Plans call for adding one class each year until there are students from all classes enrolled in the program.

THIS YEAR, 28 students will do honors work in each course in which they are registered. Registration forms indicate that the student is a member of the honors program.

In addition to regular courses, students in the program will be expected to participate in eight colloquia during the year. Four will be held each semester. Students will be divided into two groups for the colloquia and the groups will meet on separate nights.

Each colloquium will be made up of 14 students, a coordinator and a minimum of four faculty members, who will guide the study.

ONE-HALF credit per semester is given for the colloquia, and the grade received is simply Pass or Fail. A student must pass in order to continue in the honors program. He must also maintain a cumulative grade point of 3.00.

Dr. Phillip Kidahl, English Department, is serving as coordinator of the colloquia. Other members of the Honors Program Committee, in addition to Dr. Chellevold, are Dr. A. W. Swensen, Chemistry Department, and Dr. Edwin Liemohn, Music Department.

Other committee members are Dr. Eimer Hertel, Biology Department; Dr. Gerhard Ottersberg, History Department; Dr. Karl Schmidt, Religion Department; and Dr. Herbert Max, Education Department.

DR. WALTER TILLMANNS, Foreign Language Department, serves as secretary for the committee.

Each colloquium will be two hours in length. The first colloquium will discuss literature, with members of the English and Foreign Language Departments participating.

Colloquium II for the semester will be on religion, with members of the Religion and Speech Departments participating.

SCIENCE WILL be discussed in the third colloquium of the semester. Participating faculty include members of the Science Departments and Philosophy Department.

Final colloquium for the semester will discuss mathematics. Faculty members from the Science, Mathematics and Philosophy Departments will participate.

Plans are that the number of students participating every year from each class in the honors program will be approximately thirty.

FRESHMAN HONOR students this year are George Brunschein, Wyoming; Mary Jo Christiansen, Dodgeville, Wis.; Janice Crile, Mt. Pleasant; Julianne Dahlquist, Cosmos, Minn.; Robert Eltingroth, Chicago, Ill.; Lorraine Funnemark, Wesley; Christine Grebner, Elizabeth, Ill.

Kathryn Gumz, Waverly; Linda Haage, Akron; Elaine Handeland, Austin, Minn.; Richard Hertenstein, Rantoul, Ill.; James Kruger, Waverly; Carol Lowry, Grimes; Sandra Moeller, Davenport; Gary Monserud, Monona; Susan Queck, Fontanelle.

Kenneth Trettin, Rockford; Carol Vertrees, Pontiac, Ill.; Diane Zitnik, Sheboygan, Wis.; and Marie Zwanziger, Strawberry Point.

Tiempos Compare Wartburg With Philippines

BY LINDA STULL

Dr. Edith Tiempo certainly knows what it's like to take orders from her husband.

She not only was once his student, but also serves under him in the English Department at Silliman University, Damaguate City, Philippines, where he is head of the department.

The Drs. Tiempo are visiting professors of English at Wartburg this year. When asked how they liked Wartburg, Mrs. Tiempo replied, "I guess we must like it or we wouldn't have come back."

THIS IS THE third visit to the United States for the Tiempos. They received their master's degrees from the State University of Iowa, Iowa City, and their doctor's degrees from the University of Denver, Denver, Colo.

In 1957 - '58 Dr. Edilberto Tiempo was on the staff of the Wartburg English Department. Last year both he and his wife were visiting lecturers at Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, Mich.

"We find Wartburg is very similar to Silliman in many areas," said Mrs. Tiempo. "Both are church affiliated, and we were especially interested to note that the opening convocation this year was much like ours."

SILLIMAN UNIVERSITY, with 3,200 students, is somewhat larger than Wartburg, though. Graduate courses are offered in several areas.

Dating customs at Silliman are somewhat different from those at Wartburg.

"Students must always have chaperones on dates," commented Dr. Edilberto Tiempo. "But customs have changed a little. When a boy would take a girl to the movies, the chaperone used to sit between them. Now they're usually allowed to sit together!"

A PENALTY IS imposed on students who do not have chaperoned dates. There is quite a difference in girls' hours, too. At Silliman hours are 10 p.m. every night, including weekends.

"U. S. students are more prepared to accept responsibility, I think," said Mrs. Tiempo. "In the Philippines students have only six years of elementary preparation, so they are younger when they come to college."

Except for winter sports, there is as much emphasis on athletics in the Philippines as in the United States.

"Instead of football, we play soccer in the Philippines," Dr. Edilberto Tiempo commented. "The reason is simply that all that football gear is too hot to wear in our warm climate."

THE TIEMPOS explained that the cost for studying one year in the Philippines would be no higher than costs for out-of-town students attending Wartburg. In addition, the total expense would cover travel to and from the Philippines.

The Drs. Tiempo have two children, a daughter, aged 13, and a son, 6. Dr. Edilberto's sister also lives with the family and attends graduate classes at State College of Iowa, Cedar Falls.

Food Protest Immature

More evidence of lack of communication was evident Tuesday night when a small group of dissenters decided to stage a food protest in the cafeteria.

Though it was poorly organized and only a small percentage of students participated, the protest did prove one thing.

BESIDES DISPLAYING their immaturity, these students proved that they either do not know the right channels to work through or simply do not want to take the time and effort required to accomplish their goals.

In addition to wasting a lot of food and making more work for their fellow students employed in the caf, these dissenters accomplished little else.

It probably made the dean a little angry, but then he's used to problems like this. There are always wise guys who decide to take matters into their own hands and then don't know how to accomplish their purpose.

MAYBE IT WOULD have worked if all students had participated. Maybe by dumping all of our food on our trays, we'd have found a solution.

Maybe by walking out of the caf, we could have brought about a minor miracle and found all the food we love on our plates the next day. But maybe we'd all have ended up hungry, too.

Perhaps the protest would have worked if dissenters had gone through a few of the proper channels for such actions. There are ways of getting things done around here if students take the time to look.

THE COMMON COMPLAINT about this channeling procedure is that nothing is accomplished, anyway. But perhaps it's because none of us really try to accomplish anything this way.

It's more fun to gang up and have a food riot. That doesn't accomplish anything, either, but it makes a lot more people mad. And after all, what's a college if it doesn't have spirit?

There is a Student Welfare Committee which handles problems like these. This group even works with Dean Oppermann, who isn't really opposed to students' having good food. He even likes it himself.

BUT THE STUDENT Welfare Committee doesn't have food riots. The committee doesn't stage mass rebellions, so it's no fun to work with this group.

We're supposed to be mature young people, and every mature person knows that a food protest makes more sense than arbitrating through people who know the reasons for the present situation.

There are, undoubtedly, reasons for some of the meals that are served. But a protest like the one Tuesday night doesn't ask questions or find out why. It just stages a good show, and to some of us it wasn't even that.

LAST YEAR there was a cafeteria committee, which helped improve matters somewhat. It might do the same this year if it were given the chance.

But we students of Wartburg, or at least some of us, don't go for a flimsy committee like that. We want action. Well, some of us tried. And look at the results we got.

In a college student's vocabulary, sleep is a synonym for heaven.

Despite all the high education available at Wartburg, some students still cannot seem to tell time when on the telephone.

After nearly four weeks of school, the Wartburg student should be comfortably settled down, and if not settled, he should at least be down. Down to a new low in his bank account, down to a new low on his grade point average, and if he's a Wartburg football player, down to a third consecutive defeat.

What Wartburg co-eds need the most is a good Knight kiss.

Folkerts' Folly

Letters, We Get Letters!

BY JIM FOLKERTS

Knights! It's time to retaliate! The students of Wartburg College (as in other colleges across the country, I suppose) have received scorn and disapproval for the type of letters they write home.

It has been brought to our attention in years past that the contents of these letters are usually silly, unanswerable and outrageous. We have seen, in some form or other, several samples of these ridiculous letters which were sent home. It is time to turn the tables.

Now, for building the egos of average students, we have come across a sample letter from home to an average college student. The people at home are not above reproach either.

--o--

An average letter may go: Our Dearest Little Boy (Girl),

FOLKERTS

No, no, no, no, no and no! You most certainly cannot have one hundred dollars to go to Florida over the weekend. (Actually, as I see it, if a student needs the money, he should receive it.)

We realize you are short of money, so we'll send you a couple of dollars for next weekend. Also, with Homecoming just around the corner, we will put an extra five dollars in your checking account for that weekend.

(Now isn't that silly? Any parent should realize that the average student needs much more for flowers, food, dancing and refreshments.)

--o--

How come you never write to us? We always answer your letters within three or four weeks, even if nothing exciting has happened at home. (We all know that our parents miss us so much that we all receive at least two or three letters a week telling us all about the newsy gossip.)

--o--

You never come home either.

Convo Debate Points Out Differences On Civil Rights

BY SUE KELL

Frank Koykar, Loras College, Dubuque, state chairman of Iowa's collegiate Young Republicans, and Dan Bucks, Grinnell College, Grinnell, assistant to the president of Iowa's Young Democrats, clashed in a debate held Thursday in convocation.

The topic discussed concerned the civil rights programs of the Democratic and Republican parties. Dave Hutson, student body president, served as moderator.

Both debaters, in their 10-minute constructive speeches, said that their party endorsed the basic principles of civil rights. The major difference between the two views was whether the civil rights bill passed in Congress fulfilled these principles.

BUCKS EMPHASIZED the social and economic costs of discrimination and asserted that "legal order must meet the needs of the people." He claimed that

We want to see you. Besides, the lawn needs mowing and raking, the storm windows need to be cleaned and put on, the basement needs cleaning, along with the garage and attic, and we would also like the weeds in the flowers pulled before the Avon lady calls.

Won't you please come home and see us? (An ulterior motive for loneliness enters the picture.)

Oh, yes! Our neighbor down the street has heard by way of her nephew, who also goes to school there, that you run around at night and do not study properly. This has got to stop! (Big mouth neighbors. The world is small, no matter where a person goes. Preach! Preach! Preach! Another typical sermon!)

Also, the neighbor down the street the other way has a new son-in-law. It was such a beautiful wedding. There were many people from all over attending. The bride was so pretty! So many nice gifts were given to the new couple, too! I don't know what they will do with them all! (Who cares? Why can't they write about something that has reference or interest to us?)

--o--

Do you have enough covers on your bed? Do you eat properly? Do you change your underwear regularly? Do you shower? Have you found everything I packed away for you? Have you unpacked yet?

--o--

Now if our little sweetheart has any problems or if you need anything, be sure to write Mumsy and Dadsy and we'll do what we can, because we love you so very much. (How silly! We know they love us, they're pushing us through school. And how utterly distasteful that they aren't even sure if we can handle our own personal daily chores.)

With all our love, we are thinking of you with every beat of our heart, property rights mean responsibility, and if the states are not doing the job, the Federal Government must do it.

In the question period of the debate, Koykar maintained the position that laws cannot legislate morality and giving this right to the Federal Government is dangerous.

Bucks insisted that the Democratic party had always stood for racial equality and that laws which benefit society as a whole can be enacted to legislate morality. Laws follow the moral consensus of the people.

ALTHOUGH THE DEBATE rambled at times and was stopped because of questions over individual words, it was informative.

Both men supported their party's position. Bucks seemed the more objective of the two, although both men supported their contentions with facts, quotes and campaign phrases.

Casagrande Explores Questions About Man's Symbolic Culture

BY JANE VOIGTS

"Before we can see what man can be, we must first see what man has been," stressed Dr. Joseph B. Casagrande, Department of Anthropology, University of Illinois, in Tuesday's convocation here.

Continuing the theme "Let Man be Man," Casagrande spoke on the topic "Man's Cultural Environment."

He discussed three questions: "What makes man different from other animals? How has man utilized this difference? How have the results of this difference influenced man?"

"MAN IS UNIQUE. Man is alone in a world with meaning and value," said Casagrande.

"His cultural environment, the result of other environment, sets him apart."

"Man does not live at the tip of his instincts or senses; rather, he lives by artifacts and abstracts," pointed out Casagrande. "This world was built, brick by brick, by our ancestors. Man's heritage is not only biological, but also cultural."

Through man's natural capacities, he creates his behavioral environment. As natural resources differ, and man himself differs from culture to culture, so distinct and different societies have developed. Man's response to his environment -- his meanings and symbols, create culture.

"MAN, THEN, is set apart by his generic capacity for culture," said the speaker.

"Man has the ability to transform responses and experiences symbolically."

"The essence of culture is this ability to apprehend, behave and react in culture through symbols," said Casagrande.

Symbols that man uses are of an extrinsic type. Man communicates with others through language, giving objects and events significance and value.

"EVERY CULTURE has a language, a symbol system 'par excellence,'" he emphasized.

Language enables man to have a past, future and to make hypotheses.

"Language is a crucial component in man's cultural world. It serves to help one define self and act in a world he apprehends and experiences," added Casagrande.

As language is universal in all human cultures, all languages have a fundamental plan. All languages define self, enabling man to realize the concept of self.

"Self is given identity and set apart from others and objects," he commented.

Anthropology searches what man has been, exploring man's past experiences and his symbolic interpretation of the world.

"Man may reach goals of freedom and scope through rediscovery of faith and ideals stated in our Christian and democratic endeavors," he concluded.

Campus Trees Get Shots To Stop Dutch Elm Disease

Shots to ward off Dutch elm disease were begun last spring as a part of an inoculation program to save Wartburg's sixty-five to seventy elm trees.

Defense Loans Total $125,000

Authorization has been given Wartburg College to distribute $125,000 in loans through the National Defense Education Act.

Announcement of this year's allocation was made by Walter Fredrick Jr., college business manager.

Of the total, the government provided $112,500 and Wartburg $12,500. This was $12,500 short of what the college had originally requested.

Fredrick also announced that money available through United States Aid Funds, Inc., had recently been increased by $25,000, upping the total for the school since joining to $75,000.

In this program, the college underwrites and signs for loans borrowed by students through their community banks.

Money available through the NDEA last year was $112,831.

Both in 1963 and this year, funds were insufficient to meet the requests of students, Fredrick said. This situation forced the school to reduce its allocation to each applicant.

Young Republicans Hold Rally To Greet Ranking Officials

Young Republicans rallied at the Mall Wednesday night.

Youth Dept. Official To Hold Interviews For Jobs This Week

The Rev. John Schultz, Assistant Youth Director in Education for the American Lutheran Church, will be on campus Tuesday and Wednesday.

Primary purpose of Schultz's visit is to talk with interested students about the summer volunteer service of the Church. This program includes parish mission building, serving as listening witnesses in cities and work at the school for retarded children in Columbus, Ohio.

Schultz will speak at Tuesday evening chapel services and will be available for personal interviews Wednesday morning in Fuchs Lounge.

A professional tree service was employed by the college to perform the inoculation, according to Walter Fredrick, business manager. The process involved introducing a powerful insecticide into the sap of the tree during May when the sap was traveling up the tree.

This was accomplished by inserting small pipes with the attached bulb of insecticide through the bark into the cambium layer of the tree. A number of these pipes were attached around the trunk of each tree.

This technique was developed by the University of Wisconsin and in testing has appeared to be successful, said Fredrick. At the present time, this is the only possible prevention measure known.

This process must be repeated each spring until the threat of the disease has left the area. Cost of the inoculation is $10 per tree.

Fredrick reported that a loss of the elm trees would mean the loss of 70 to 80 per cent of the total tree population on campus.

Campus Political Leaders View Medicare Issues

Democrat

BY RANDY MARSH

"Clearly, too many Americans still are cut off by low income from adequate health service. Too many older people are still deprived of hope and dignity by prolonged and costly illness . . ." said Pres. Lyndon B. Johnson.

The combined Kennedy-Johnson Administration has conducted an all-out drive to bring the best possible medical care to all Americans. Steps have been taken to:

- attack the twin problems of mental illness and mental retardation
- meet the special health needs of our youth (under 17) and elderly (over 65), who account for an ever-increasing percentage of the total population
- increase the quality and quantity of our hospital care
- increase the quality and quantity of medical personnel

Since January, 1961, when the Kennedy-Johnson Administration came into office, some seventeen hundred projects for hospitals, public health centers and nursing homes have been approved under the Hill-Burton Act.

Although 220,000 persons have received aid under the Medical Assistance for the Aged (Kerr-Mills) program, this is still inadequate for our senior citizens, who would be better aided by the President's proposed Health Care for the Aged legislation.

The Democratic Party recognizes its responsibility and is proud of its record in support of progressive legislation on behalf of its older citizens.

Students Attend Political Confab

Last Friday four Wartburg students and a faculty member attended a workshop in political research at Grinnell College.

Seniors Amy Linkert and David Fredrick represented the campus Young Republicans, and senior Randy Marsh and freshman Alice Heil attended from the Young Democrats club.

They were accompanied by G. Rudolph Bjorgan, History Department.

Republican

BY JEAN BIERE

The Democrat plan of medical care for the aged is nothing but a give-away in the opinion of the Republican party.

Republican philosophy is that the federal government should undertake only what the public or lower branches of government cannot handle.

Private bi-partisan studies have indicated that insurance companies could provide the same services as the King-Anderson Bill--at less cost!

It is estimated that the necessitated increase in social security taxes would be $60 a year for both employee and employer by 1971.

Senator Goldwater voted against the Democrat-sponsored King-Anderson Bill, providing direct medical care instead of higher social security benefits. It did not pass the Congress. He does, however, support the Kerr-Mills Bill, which is more moderate.

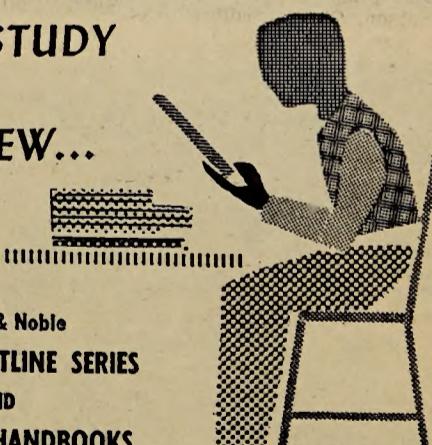

In explaining why he voted against the bill, Goldwater said, "My fundamental objection to this proposal is that it is based on the unspoken premise that American workers, whether in the $5,000 or $50,000 class, are incapable of deciding how to spend their money."

Wainless Wartburg And Wesleyan Battle For Initial Victory Today

Iowa Wesleyan and Wartburg, two winless teams so far this season, battled at 1:30 this afternoon at Schield Stadium.

Roundballers Lift Weights

With the basketball season coming into view, prospective players are working out daily on their weight training program.

This program has been described by one player as "a pre-season workout to get us back in shape. It's a program where we run, lift weights, shoot baskets and work with the people we'll be playing with during the season."

Another player said that he thought this program was useful because regular practice doesn't start until Nov. 1.

With this program Coach Jaspers hopes to get his players in shape before they enter into conference competition with such arch rivals as Luther, Central and Upper Iowa.

Both teams came into today's contest with little more than their pride after being soundly defeated last week. Upper Iowa hit Wartburg with its Sunday punch and left town with a 34-6 victory, while Central walked all over Wesleyan to the tune of 83-0.

"We just didn't do anything," said Coach Norm Johansen this week. "We couldn't block or tackle. We just did not play ball. Upper Iowa has a fine ball club; you can't take anything away from them. This is the best Upper Iowa team that we've seen in quite some time."

"THE DEFENSE definitely let down last week, after being up so high for Augustana. Dick Basham did a really fine job for his first game as a starter."

"Kit (Roger Kittleson) did not have much of a chance to show what he could do at halfback. He probably will make a good halfback; last week he just didn't get any blocking."

When asked about changes in his lineup, Jo said, "I would say that we will have changes this week, but we don't know what they are yet. We are in good shape injury-wise. Aivars Zosulis will still be out, but Jerry Schrader may be back."

It is no secret that the Knights could use Schrader's experience and versatility in their line. He plays both guard and center and has seen quite a bit of action in the last two seasons. The last three weeks he has been recovering from a back injury.

LOOKING AHEAD TO today's game, Jo commented, "Iowa Wesleyan will definitely be a tougher team after being defeated 83-0 last week. They never lost their spirit for the entire game. They had several breaks against them, and this fact had a steamroller effect. Everything just seemed to go wrong for them."

"We are not taking them lightly. They scored twice against Upper Iowa; this must indicate something about their strength. They have a 220-pound all-conference fullback in George Bull. He is going to have to be stopped if we are going to win."

Next week, Wartburg travels to Oskaloosa to take on the William Penn Statesmen. Penn hasn't won a ball game after two Iowa Conference starts this season. (KWAR-FM, 7:15 CST)

SPOTLIGHT ON SPORTS

Flag Football Continues With 3-Way Tie For First

BY ED ROACH

Flag football continues to highlight the activity of Wartburg's intramural sports program. All teams involved have now completed at least one game.

At this point in the season, North Hall, Ketha and Alpha-Married Men appear to be the top contenders for the football title.

Clinton I swamped the luckless Grossmann I team 26 to 8 in a game that was rescheduled from Sept. 29. The Clinton I offense put the game far out of reach from the opening kickoff.

IN THE OTHER game played that day Dave Long led Grossmann II to a 26-0 victory over its upstairs rival, Grossmann III. Long scored two touchdowns and intercepted several passes, whereas Dick McCabe guided the team at quarterback.

Clinton II squeezed by the Off-campus team 7-0 on Oct. 1. Rich Medlar paved the way for Clinton II with some timely pass interceptions.

In the other game that day Ketha slipped by Cotta-Gamma and Grossmann Basement 19-8 in a rough and tumble battle. Cotta and company led at the half, but Ketha came storming back in the final stages to win.

In Oct. 3 action, Vollmer came back in the second half to pull out a 13-11 nailbiter. The same morning Clinton III annihilated Grossmann I 37-0. Clinton III had a much larger team and simply ran over the hapless Grossmann I defenders.

Alpha-Married Men marked its first victory with a 6-0 win over Clinton II. In the closing seconds of the game the Alphateam scored on a short run.

North Hall picked up a cheap victory as Cotta-Gamma-Grossmann Basement forfeited the game.

Thursday's action found the Off-campus team winning by forfeit from the Grossmann III team. Tom Wilson led Ketha to a 46-0 stomping of Clinton II with his exhibition of running and passing.

CLINTON II never posed a serious threat as Ketha's stout defense held firm.

Freshmen Take P. E. Tests

The National Physical Fitness Test Program was administered to all freshman physical education orientation classes recently.

Seven test items included pull-ups for the men and bent arm hangs for the women, sit-ups, shuttle run and standing broad jump.

Other events were the 50-yard dash, the softball throw,

THESE TESTS are designed to measure arm strength, abdominal strength, speed and agility, leg power, arm power and endurance.

Four new records were established by this year's freshman class. Men setting new records were Jack Ball, Rick Hauck, Rich Bringewatt and Doug Hart.

Ball ran the 50-yard dash in 5.3 seconds to erase .3 second off the previous record held by Roger Haynes.

HAUCK SET a new record for pull-ups, doing 28 to top the old mark of 25 set previously by Tom Schwab.

Sharing the new record in the shuttle run are Bringewatt and Hart. They were both clocked at 8.2 seconds. This replaces the old record of 8.3 seconds held by Dennis Cumberland.

In the women's fitness test, the lone freshman recordbreaker was Cynthia Fink. She mastered the shuttle run in 9 seconds, erasing the old record of 9.2 seconds held by Martha Heer and Glenda Masters.

IN THE REMAINING tests Rhonda Swenson had the high score of 68 seconds in the bent arm hang. Lynda Krause did 52 sit-ups to score the high in that event.

Joan Sill won top honors in the standing broad jump with a leap of 7 feet. Linda Thom had the fastest time of 6.8 seconds for the 50-yard dash.

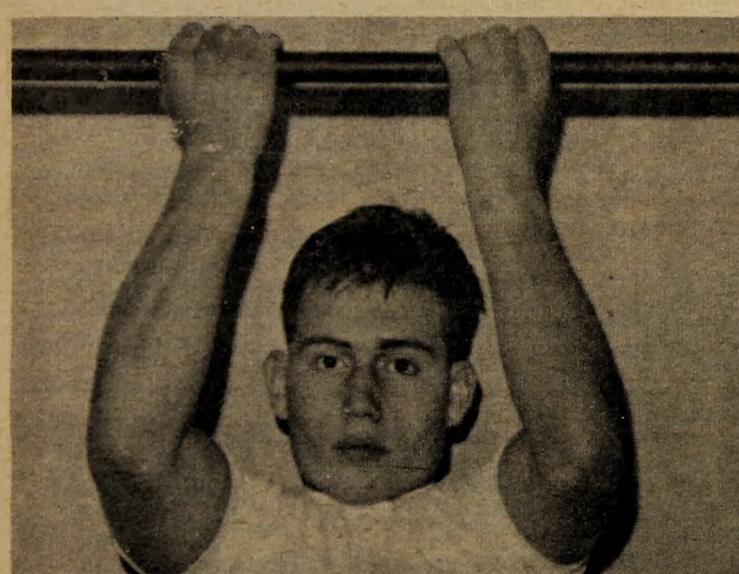

Darlene Parks threw the softball the farthest with a toss of 162 feet. Ruth Tillmanns ran the grueling 600-yard run-walk in 2 minutes and 8 seconds to win honors in this event.

DAVE OLSON, head of the Physical Education Department, explained that the National Physical Fitness Tests are of great value both to the Physical Education Department and to the student.

Test results aid the department in comparing Wartburg students with other college students throughout the nation and also with past Wartburg classes.

Tests help to determine those who are eligible for a specially adapted class which is offered second semester for those who ranked low in the fitness tests.

This fitness test will be given again in the spring. Freshmen will then be able to compare their fall and spring scores to see how their physical fitness improved over the school year.

With a look of determination of his face, freshman Ed Ricketts continues doing push-ups as a part of the physical fitness test.

Members of the girls' physical education class play a not so feminine game of field hockey on the practice field.

W-Club Picks Mennen 'Athlete'

BY JACK EDEN

Ron (Buster) Mennen, an ace line-backer for the Jo-men, has been chosen Athlete of the Month by the W-Club. In last Saturday's game he was credited with 13 tackles and was in on almost every defensive play, just as he has been all season.

Mennen is lightning-quick to respond and seems to be in the right place at the right time to block a punt or break up a play.

Without football gear he is a trim, muscular 200 pounds. He stands five feet, eleven inches tall. Although he's not the biggest man on the football team, he has the courage and stamina to make him one of the toughest defensive players in the conference.

MENNEN BEGAN his football career in Aplington High School, Aplington, where he lettered all four years. In his junior year, when he was just 15, he was voted all-conference guard, and the following year he made all-conference tackle and all-state honorable mention.

After high school graduation Mennen joined the ranks of the Knights and played a starting position in the last six games of the season during his freshman year here. He lettered that year, but dropped out of school for the first semester of last year.

When giving his reactions to being chosen Athlete of the Month, Mennen shrugged his shoulders, smiled modestly and said, "It was really a big surprise to me."

HE WENT ON to talk about the future of the team this season. "I think we're going to beat Wesleyan," he said, and then added with a laugh, "We've got to."

"I think Coach Bondhus is really great," continued Mennen. "He'll be a great help to the team. He really knows what he is talking about."

"We'll improve as the season progresses. Any young team will improve with experience. We've got some good freshmen who need to see more action. They're looking good now, but with experience they'll look a lot better."

Becker's Blunders

Defensive Unit Appears Shy

BY MIKE BECKER

Maybe a good article on flag football is due this week. Those flags are much easier to grab than the Upper Iowa footballers. The Keglers' defensive unit seemed to be shy about five or six men on every play last Saturday.

The famed Upper Iowa inside reverse worked to perfection against our defensive unit. With our defensive tackles claiming one tackle among all of them, and our pass defense seemingly non-existent at times, we didn't have much to throw against the Peacocks.

WE NEVER THE UIU quarterback needed 10 or 15 yards, he threw the short pass, which both sides knew was coming but which we could do nothing about.

BECKER

However, being ever optimistic, we can say there were a few bright spots. "Buster" Mennen turned in another fine job at linebacker, racking up 12 tackles. The aerial combination of Basham to Zietlow and Ludvigsen made us look pretty good at assorted moments during the game.

Rog Kittelson turned in a fine job carrying the ball against the big Peacock line. And to top that all off, we didn't even have a blocked punt. Of course we lost our usual 10 or 20 yards on offside penalties, but that just kept the Peacocks guessing what penalty we would pull out next.

SEVERAL OF OUR finest football players were unmercifully raked over the coals by that "good-natured" mob of ruffians from Upper Iowa, not to mention some of our own fans. Something like this is to be expected from our opposition but not from our supporters and certainly not from the supposedly gentler sex.

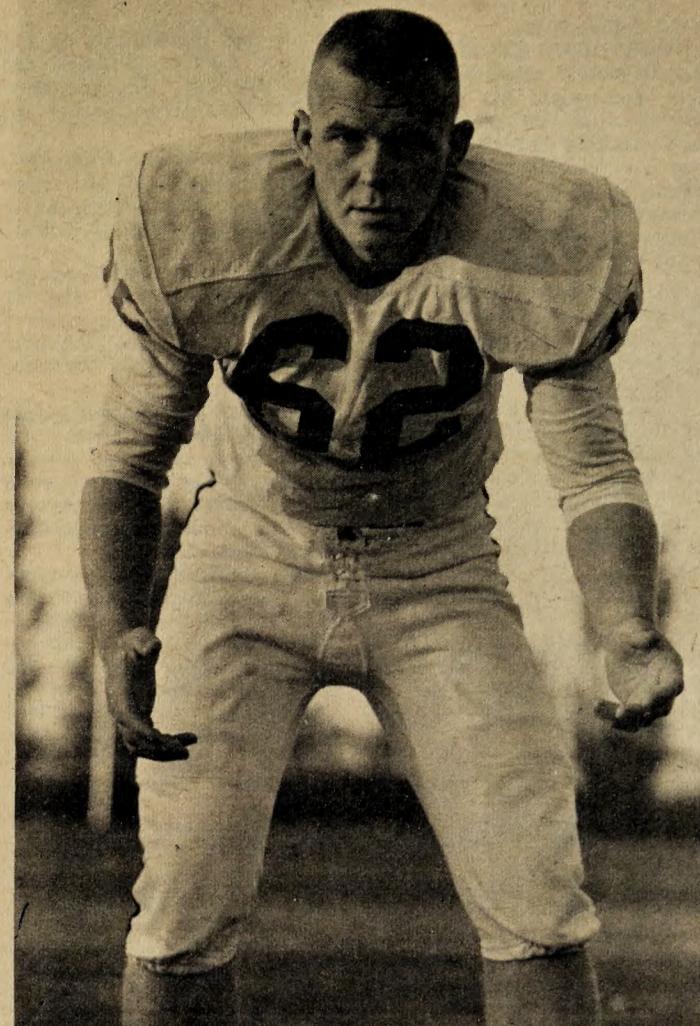

Here comes a rash prediction. If we don't beat Iowa Wesleyan we don't have to expect to win any games this year. Secondly, you can expect to see frosh and sophs playing more than the seniors in order to gain the vital experience which is said to be needed but then is not used.

Now on to IM's. Flag football is rounding into shape with North Hall currently leading my top five. My top five teams are as follows:

1. North Hall
2. Ketha
3. Clinton II
4. Alpha-Married Men
5. Gamma - Cotta - Grossmann Basement (if they ever show up for their games).

THE BIG THREAT this year seems to be the running back. Such fine running backs as Andy Schmidt, Jerry Zehr, Rich Medlar, Bill Westphal, Ron Nelson and Lowell Syverson are all hard men to bring down.

An interesting game to see will be the grudge battle between North Hall and Off-campus for the old oaken keg at the end of the year. It could be a wet one.

Runners Take Defeat From Panthers, 17-42

BY DALE WEHLING

The cross-country team went down to its first defeat of the season here Tuesday, 17-42, at the hands of the SCI harriers.

Wartburg was unable to cope with the depth of the Panthers, as they grabbed the four top spots and seven of the first ten places. This score was plenty to lead our neighbors to the south past the Knights, who have never defeated the Panthers in cross-country.

Despite the defeat, Wartburg did have some improvement in times over previous meets. Jim Rasmussen, who finished 5th in 16:15, turned in an improved time, as did Jon Thieman, who ran the three-mile course in 16:21 and finished 6th.

Coach John Kurt pointed out that the times of individuals had also improved over the previous year. For example, on Oct. 9, 1963, Jim Rasmussen was clocked at 16:33 on the Waverly Country Club course against Luther. This was 18 seconds slower than his time Tuesday. Improvements were also shown over a year ago by Gayle Fick, Arlyn Ristau and Bruce Kettner.

Foreign Students Find Wartburg Friendly, Personal, But Rough

BY MARILYN MILLER

Among new faces on campus this fall are three students who are a long way from home. For Vincent Oroseza, Abeto Uy and Astrid Flesvik, Wartburg is not only an educational experience, but also a different way of life.

Vincent Oroseza comes to Wartburg from Caracas, Venezuela. He is majoring in industrial and mechanical engineering.

He attended high school at the Riverside Military Academy, Gainesville, Ga. After high school he decided to continue his studies in the United States.

"WARTBURG STUDENTS are very friendly," said Oroseza. "I have met people like them before, but not so many at one time. Schools here in America give a better orientation in one's major. Small colleges give a lot of individual help."

Oroseza was Venezuela's 1963 water skiing champion.

Another foreign student, Abeto Uy, is from Manila, Philippines. He is majoring in business administration. Uy is from a family of 12 children.

"My brother is working on his M. A. at Iowa State, and he told me that Wartburg was a good school," Uy commented.

UY SAID he thinks Wartburg is a rough school, but that America is the best place to acquire knowledge. Philippine schools stress the English and Chinese languages.

U. S. climate is very different from that of the Philippines, according to Uy. Temperatures in the Philippines rarely drop below 60 degrees.

"Americans are friendly. They always find something to do. But I'm not used to initiation and things like that," he concluded.

Uy is interested in soccer and basketball.

Astrid Flesvik is from Biri, Norway. She is majoring in elementary education, and her favorite subjects are history and religion.

"The Norheims, Wartburg College faculty members, are my cousins and wanted me to come here," she said. "The schools in Norway are tougher. We have classes on Saturday."

"In junior college, you cannot choose different classes you would like to take. You have to take everything offered. Even if you hate math, you have to take it. We have to take German, English and French, too."

MISS FLESVIK says the Wartburg people have been wonderful to her, and that the U.S. prices are not so high as those in Norway. She does not like the hot American summer, however.

In her spare time, Miss Flesvik enjoys handball and basketball.

Seventeen Begin Debate Practice

Seventeen students are participating in intercollegiate debate this year, according to Donald Douglas, debate adviser. They will debate the topic "Resolved, That the federal government should establish a program of work projects for the unemployed."

Freshman debaters are George Ellison, Tom Emerson, Donna Maule and Carolyn Peters.

Students interested in debate are invited and encouraged to attend any of the debate meetings, said Douglas. Debaters meet every Tuesday and Thursday at 4 p.m. in Room 105 Luther Hall.

Thirty-five New Deacons Serve Student Congregation

Thirty-five students have been installed as deacons of the Student Congregation.

The deacons' task is to make it possible for all students to be responsible ministers of God at Wartburg.

EACH FLOOR of the dorms, each house and off-campus students elect a deacon to represent them in the congregation.

Vollmer Hall elected junior Nina Stein, ground floor; seniors Mary Ann Herder, first; Lorraine Martz, second; and Shirley Friederichs, third floor.

Freshman Joan Hustoff,

Invitations Sent To All Students For Inauguration

Invitations to the Inauguration of Dr. John W. Bachman as Wartburg College President and the reception that follows will be mailed to all students this week.

The Inauguration will be held at 2 p.m., Nov. 11, according to Dr. Gerhard Ottersburg, chairman of the Inauguration Committee.

Acceptance is up to individual students, but replies are requested of all students planning to attend. A deadline will be set for the return of replies.

Dr. Ottersburg stressed that admission to the inauguration will be by card only.

Two Major Elections To Be Held In Convocation

Two major campus elections will be held in convocation under the auspices of the Elections Committee this month.

Twenty-two Wartburg students will be chosen for this year's "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" in convocation Tuesday.

Qualifications for nominees are the same this year as they have been in the past. A candidate must have carried at least a 2.5 grade point for three consecutive semesters and must be an officer of an organization or have lettered in a sport.

ACCORDING TO Bob Braun, chairman of the Elections Committee, a list of eligible students was posted Friday. It will be taken down Monday noon.

Those students who have not been listed but feel they should be candidates even though they have not met the requirements may contact the dean of students or Braun before Monday noon.

Primary election for Homecoming queen will take place Oct. 20 in convocation. All senior women are nominated, and this ballot will cut the field to 10 candidates.

"THE FRESHMAN vote will not be counted in the first election because we feel that they have not had time to get to know the senior girls," said Braun.

A second ballot will be taken Oct. 22 to choose the queen from the 10 finalists. Freshman votes will be counted in this election.

Activities Committee Sponsors Hootenanny

Bongos, guitars and any other musical instruments should be brought along to the hootenanny tonight, according to Rog Sherman, Social Activities Committee Chairman. It will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Union lounge and is free to all.

Social Activities Committee is sponsoring the event, which also features free refreshments.
